

Hello families,

I hope this email finds you well.

Thank you for attending our Parent Partnership meeting last week. It was lovely to finally meet you all and have so many positive conversations about children. As always, I am available if you would like any further discussions. Following on from our meetings, thank you for accessing Boomreader to log reading. The vast majority of the class is now logging reading regularly and it was lovely to award four white karate reading bands on Friday. Every child, reading every day is our whole school goal. We are well on our way in Emerald so thank you.

This week, I will send a VIPERS reading booklet home. This is to support questioning when reading at home in addition to weekly comprehension homework. Most children will be familiar with this approach. VIPERS is used as part of our daily reading sessions.

This week, we'll be finishing a number of topics. Our final history session will take us inside St Day Holy Trinity Church. In literacy, we'll be completing our fact-files about iconic London buildings. In maths, we'll complete place value and assess our understanding. We'll revisit aspects to secure our knowledge towards the end of the week. Please see the attached document relating to number facts. This is just an overview of knowledge the children simply need to know. It would be brilliant if you can support your child learn this over the coming weeks. A printed copy will be sent home this week.

After half term, I'll create another document building on this information with more facts and basic numbers patterns you can show and practise with your children.

Our PE session will be Wednesday this week. As always, healthy snacks and water in water bottles.

Have a lovely week,

Mr Hughes
