EXCELLENCE

Be your best - Be even better - Be brilliant

A message from Ms Storey

Singing, rugby, athletics, English, Maths, History, well-being ('know yourself, grow yourself') - no matter what our children have been engaging in this last week - they are enjoying and excelling. Our achievements have been rightly acknowledged in our recent Ofsted Inspection Report:

'Pupils blossom academically, socially and emotionally at this school.'

I wonder what your favourite part of the report is? Take part in the writing challenge this week so your child can share their thoughts in assembly. Please do take a look at the brilliant rugby video capturing so many of our children in action! From weekly lessons with James Murray, everyone has acquired new skills - with a special mention to Oscar for standing out for his exceptional play.

'Pupils have an excellent understanding of acceptance and tolerance. They look after each other and value the things that make them different.'

Ofsted

Following our recent Ofsted inspection, we are delighted to share the full report with you - we hope you have enjoyed reading this with your child. As I have told our children in assembly - they make our School a very special place to be and we are so proud of them all!

As you will read in the first section – we have ‘improved significantly across all areas since the previous inspection’. Simply put, this is the highest praise under an ungraded inspection any school could receive.

The report is the culmination of everyone’s efforts – staff, children, parents and governors and we are so proud of and grateful to our entire community.

‘The curriculum, behaviour and pupils’ personal development are remarkable.’

Children's Mental Health Week 2025

Place2Be's Children's Mental Health Week - Official site

This week in school we have been marking a very special week in the calendar - Children's Mental Health Week. The theme this year is 'know yourself, grow yourself' which links in perfectly with our work as a Rights Respecting Silver School.

We launched the week with a special assembly from Ms Vallance where we considered how important it is to take notice of ourselves and how we are feeling. We all knew that sometimes we can feel like we are in the middle of a tussle of emotions - feeling joyful, then sad, then angry and jealous - all at the same time!

We enjoyed a clip from Inside Out - a brilliant film which we use across school to talk about our feelings through the Zones of Regulation.

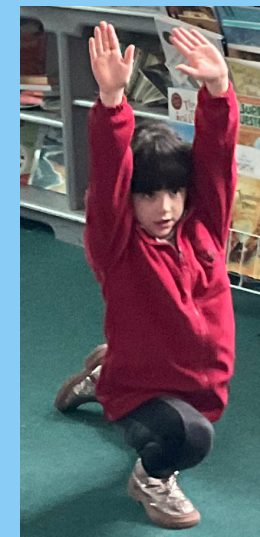

This assembly was followed up in classes throughout the week with all sorts of brilliant activities going on. Ask your child what their class did to mark Children's Mental Health Week 2025!

News from around the school

Children across the school have been working on their fitness, flexibility and balance during PE lessons.

With a focus on gymnastics and fitness, Amber and Sapphire Classes are building a foundation of wellbeing which will help them become super sports stars as they move through school.

News from around the school

On Monday, a group of our year 5/6 children represented us brilliantly at Redruth School as part of the annual Terry Pryor charity rugby tournament.

It was a fantastic experience, where we were able to take 2 teams - both performing excellently and scoring some brilliant tries!

From across all Schools, Oscar in year 5 was awarded a medal as 'player of the tournament' - this was truly deserved.

The team showed resilience and determination along with pride as they cheered each other on from the side lines.

Check out the video on the next page!

Well done team!

eSafety Updates

With young people spending more time online, we know that this time will impact their digital wellbeing and mental health, both positively and negatively.

Recent reports found that more than a third of young people in 30 countries report being cyberbullied, with 1 in 5 reporting to have skipped school as a result.

However, we know that many young people also gain great experiences from being online, not only for talking to friends or family but also for finding support, gaming, researching and much more.

In 2021, Safer Internet Day research found that over half of young people (58%) say playing games online changes their mood positively, and 59% say it makes them feel good about themselves.

In schools and at home, conversations about online safety and the impact it has on mental health can help young people to feel empowered to speak out and talk to an adult if they ever feel concerned about something they see or experience online.

Every Child, Every Day a Writer...

Each child has brought a copy of our recent Ofsted report home with them this week. It can also be found at <https://www.st-day.cornwall.sch.uk/ofsted>

Your writing challenge this week is to read the report with your parents and consider the part of it which makes you the most proud. Once you have thought about this, write it down and explain why it makes you feel that way - we will share your thoughts in assembly.

We can't wait to see what you feel proud of and why!
